In Trust With The Gospel

Elder Keith Ellis

Meekness

In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth; And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will. 2 Tim 2:25-26

How does this instruction take place? Through reverse osmosis? No. Through patient teaching of the ministry which is to stand as a watchman and warn the children of God regarding the dangers and snares that are in the world.

For any minister to not do this he is neglecting his responsibility to oversee the flock which the Lord purchased with His own blood. God forbid we should be derelict in this duty to stand on the walls and warn.

No, this is not about changing the world, but informing and educating the people of God about what paths they should take in this life in order to avoid the snares of the devil.

Knowing the dangers exist, to partake of them yourselves, and not warn the people of God, and then to mock and ridicule those that are making an honest proactive effort to warn the people of God, is not ground that I want to be standing on. Neither should you friend.

Being meek does not mean to be weak. Nor does the fact that we are engaged in instruction mean we do not trust God. The opposite position is fatalism.
