White – Righteousness

This, perhaps, is the easiest association for people to make. The color white is found many times in the scriptures and is often associated with white garments, white manna, white fields, white horses, white stones, white cloud, and white robes.

However, even though the association is easy to conclude, yet the color white is clearly defined in Rev. 19:8 "And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints."

In subsequent essays, we will show the significance of who wore the white garments and how that our garments as children of God were made white. Also, we will examine the significance of the white garments, white manna, white fields, white horses, white stones, white cloud, and white robes.

Furthermore, light and righteousness are also associated and many verses of scripture show this association.
